Message by Singapore's Minister for Transport and Minister-in-charge of Trade Relations for the ICCS's Annual Directory 2023/2024

MINISTER FOR TRANSPORT AND MINISTER-IN-CHARGE OF TRADE RELATIONS, SINGAPORE

As the world continues to navigate global economic headwinds and uncertainties, there is renewed impetus to deepen international partnerships as a strategy for addressing challenges and developing new growth opportunities. Singapore is committed to staying open and strengthening our cooperation with like-minded countries like Italy, with whom our bilateral partnership spans many areas including trade, tourism, science and technology.

Singapore and Italy's bilateral economic relationship has continued to grow from strength to strength. In February 2022, Singapore's Economic Development Board (EDB) and the Italian Chamber of Commerce signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) to promote business partnerships between Singapore and Italian companies in the growth sectors of urban mobility, agri-tech, aerospace, and food packaging. In October 2022, Singapore's Agency for Science, Technology and Research (A*STAR) and the Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation launched a call for proposals as a follow-up to the Agreement between the Government of Italy and the Government of Singapore on Scientific and Technological Cooperation, and have received very encouraging responses from industry. We also continue to have regular government-to-government exchanges, including Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation Luigi di Maio's visit to Singapore in July 2022.

As a global trade and financial hub with strong connectivity to Europe, Singapore has been serving as a gateway for Italian companies to expand across the Southeast Asia region. At the November 2022 roundtable dialogue with ICCS members, I shared updates on how the EU-Singapore Digital Partnership that was being negotiated would further strengthen digital connectivity and interoperability between Singapore and the EU, including Italy. I am happy to share that we have since concluded and signed the Digital Partnership in February 2023. We also look forward to launching negotiations on a legally binding digital trade agreement with the EU soon. Through these initiatives, we hope to support commercially meaningful outcomes for Singapore, EU, and Italian companies, whose cross-border operations are increasingly moving into the digital space.

Singapore and Italy's business communities play an integral role as we continue to strengthen greater cooperation between both countries. I would like to commend ICCS for its work in supporting business partnerships between Singapore and Italy. I look forward to continue advancing the close cooperation between our two countries through the many exciting initiatives and tie-ups that are in the works, such as ICCS' partnership with Singapore Fashion Council for a business mission to Milan and Florence in June 2023. Here's to many more fruitful collaborations!

Message by H.E. Mario Andrea Vattani, Ambassador of Italy to Singapore

H. E. MARIO ANDREA VATTANI
AMBASSADOR OF ITALY TO SINGAPORE

Dear ICCS Members and Friends,

I am very pleased to be able once again to contribute to the ICCS Directory for 2023-2024. I thank the leadership of the Chamber, as well as all the companies which have been engaged in its many initiatives and programs, and have always been active in its Committees.

Singapore's strategic role within the ASEAN region and Asia makes it a vibrant environment, rich of opportunities for many of our companies. The partnership between the ICCS and the Embassy, as well as the Italian Trade Agency, is fundamental to enhance Italian economic presence in the city-state. Our cooperation has been crucial in the last months for the success of many political visits to Singapore, namely the former Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation, Luigi Di Maio, the President of the Region Piemonte, Alberto Cirio, the Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs Maria Tripodi, and lately the Under-Secretary of Defense, Matteo Perego di Cremonago.

We have also been blessed last year with the exhibition in Singapore, at the Arts House, of dozens of works by the most representative authors of our contemporary art, expressions of the lively evolution of Italian creativity. Part of the works of "La Grande Visione Italiana" were exhibited in the new Embassy headquarters, thanks to our relocation of our headquarters to a more modern, prestigious and accessible space in the financial center of Singapore: a concrete demonstration of how much Italy focuses on strengthening its relations with Singapore and with the South East Asia region.

More recently, we had the honor of welcoming the Multipurpose Offshore Patrol Vessel "Francesco Morosini", which represents the cutting-edge of Italian technology in the naval and electronic sector. The City-State was the first port call in Asia of the ship's five months Indo-Pacific campaign, marking Singapore's prominence as a strategic hub.

This important sign of attention has been accompanied by a strong increase in Italy's visibility in Singapore, thanks to a number of initiatives that have involved all components of the Italian presence in the City-State. The goal that inspires each of our initiatives is to offer an up-to-date vision of Italy and of our excellence in the most avant-garde fields of industry, technology, scientific research, design and the arts, in the belief that a better knowledge of Italy's industrial and innovative potential will give further impetus to the Italian presence in Singapore, and to relations between our nations.

In such a promising framework, with bilateral relations being fostered in many sectors, ranging from cultural to high technology, initiatives such as the ICCS Business Awards as well as the latest ICCS' e-commerce project, are clear expressions of the Chamber's ability to cooperate in synergy with all components of Italian presence here. And now, internationalization of Italian companies in South-East Asian strategic junction will be able to count on new instruments, with Confindustria choosing Singapore to open its first branch in Asia.

Yet another important step will allow us today to strengthen Italy's role in the center of the fastest growing region of the world: the Italy-Singapore agreement on Science and Technology has finally been activated in May 2023, thanks to an Executive Protocol which will provide funding for 10 joint projects in seven research areas.

This was the result of a long negotiation process, but the acceleration took place from last year, with a series of demarches by the Italian Embassy, focusing our action on the Singapore Ministries of Foreign Affairs and of Commerce and Industry. To us, the success of this endeavour is a clear demonstration that relations in the field of Science and Technology are a priority in relations between our two countries. The agreement will from now on act as a multiplier for further collaborations, paving the way for more collaborations between research institutes, universities and start-ups of both countries.

Once again this year, the publication of the ICCS Directory is included in the Italian Festival, a unique opportunity of raising awareness on our country's excellence in a wide range of sectors, from culture to gastronomy, from fashion to finance, from industry to scientific research.

In all these fields we Italians are known to apply our unmistakable identity, the vitality and creativity of our culture. At the same time, our ever-growing partnership with Singapore is a precious vehicle for communication and dialogue, and we are convinced that strengthening our relations with the multi-faceted cultural and economic specificity of the City-State is one of the most qualifying aspects of our mission here.

Message by Gionata Bosco, ICCS President

GIONATA BOSCO

PRESIDENT OF THE ITALIAN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IN SINGAPORE

Dear ICCS Members and Friends,

It gives me great pleasure to address you all after completing my first year as President of ICCS. The year 2022 was a challenging one for us all, but it also represented a return to normalcy for the Chamber of Commerce. The last 10 months have allowed us to restart our regular activities in Singapore and Italy, and we have made great strides in enhancing our partnerships and collaborations. Throughout 2022, we had the privilege of hosting several esteemed guests, including the Undersecretary of State Manlio di Stefano, Comandante Giacomin, Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs Luigi di Maio, and President of Piedmont Region Cirio. These meetings were made possible thanks to the strong collaboration between the Italian Chamber of Commerce and the Embassy. I want to extend my heartfelt thanks to H.E. Ambassador Vattani for his unwavering support. However, the significance of ICCS as a partner to the Embassy and Singaporean Government Agencies such as EDB, ESG, and MTI is attributable to the tireless efforts of our team, board, and, most importantly, our members. For 2023, we have decided to increase our collaboration with other business communities based in Singapore. We have already co-organized five activities, including networking and committee meetings with European and American Chambers of Commerce, and we will continue to work towards organizing more joint events throughout the year. Our upcoming months will be filled with exciting business activities as ICCS leads a delegation from Singapore, Malaysia, and Indonesia to the Italian Fair Tuttofood in Milan, partners with the Singapore Fashion Council business delegation to Italy in June, hosts the 5th Edition of the Italian Food and Beverage in Singapore in July, holds the ICCS Business Awards in September, and leads another delegation to Italy in October. And of course, as usual, on 1st December, we will host our Annual Gala Dinner at the Fullerton Bay Hotel. As President of the current board, I am honored to serve alongside my fellow board members: VP Paolo Misurale from Bain, Treasurer Ho Long Shuan from Menarini, Hon. VP Renato Sirtori from ST Microelectronics, and all the other board members, whose unwavering commitment has brought us to where we are today. I also want to acknowledge and express my gratitude to our ICCS Team for their dedication and hard work, without which our success would not be possible. Lastly, I want to recognize the ICCS Committees and their respective Chairs for their invaluable contributions to our business community.

Thank you all for your attention, and I look forward to a successful year ahead.

Why Singapore?

SINGAPORE OFFERS A PRO-BUSINESS ENVIRONMENT, EXCELLENT INFRASTRUCTURE, INTERNATIONAL CONNECTIVITY, AS WELL AS A HIGHLY SKILLED, COSMOPOLITAN LABOUR FORCE.

Getting around Singapore

Singapore's transport system is highly efficient and easy to navigate. The various modes of transport used on the island are as follows.

Driving and Riding

on-Singaporeans can drive or ride on Singapore's roads, provided they have an International Driver's Permit. Should your license be in another language, make sure you carry an English translation. Drivers have a one-year grace period to obtain a Singapore driver's license, unless they become Permanent Residents, at which point a license conversion has to be done. This would require one to take the Basic Theory Test which can be booked online or at any one of the three driving centres located on different parts of the island.

Below are the names of the schools and their websites:

Bukit Batok Driving Centre -
www.bbdc.com.sg

Comfort DelGro Driving Centre -
www.cdc.com.sg

Singapore Safety Driving Centre -

If you do not have a driving license and wish to obtain one, you can also sign up at any of the above-mentioned schools.

Taxis and private hire cars

Taxi services in Singapore are run by Comfort & Citycab, and SMRT Taxis, TransCab and Prime Taxi. Getting a taxi is generally easy as they can be flagged down on the main road. However, if you are hard-pressed for time, you can also call the hotlines to make a booking. This can also be done in advance with a pre-booking service through ride hailing applications such as Zig, Grab, Gojek and Tada.

The websites of the Taxi and ride hailing services can be found below:

Public Transportation: Buses and Trains

Fare
Calculator

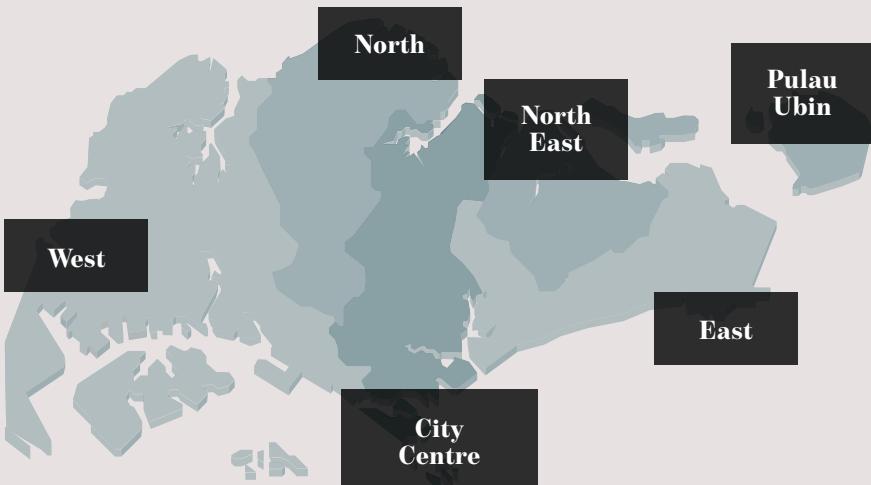

Singapore is equipped with one of the world's best rail and bus networks, making it convenient and affordable to commute by train or bus. Trains and buses operate from 5.30am to as late as 1am, depending on the location.

Bus times can be tracked on mobile apps such as "MyTransport" and "Google Maps". These apps also allow you to plan your journey by showing all the possible routes between your starting point and destination. There are currently several train lines in Singapore. There are also Light Rail Transits (LRTs) that link MRT stations with HDBs public housing estates to reach as many residential areas as possible.

Payments for train and bus rides can be made with a simple swipe of an EZ-Link card, a pre-paid smart card that allows you to pay for all your public transport travel. You can purchase one at most MRT stations and 7-11 stores. Cash payment is also accepted, but this is highly impractical on buses and is not accepted for the MRT.

Choosing your Neighbourhood

Moving abroad can be challenging, so there are certain aspects you should take into careful consideration before making the big move.

Here is a comprehensive overview of the different neighbourhoods and the types of home you could live in. The guide aims to provide you with more information that will make your transition smoother.

Firstly an important factor to take into consideration is the location of the accommodation. Singapore's neighbourhoods vary greatly, and each has its own unique characteristics and history.

City Centre

Orchard - Dhoby Ghaut - Newton

Orchard Road's bustling boulevard is a retail and dining paradise, with over 5,000 establishments including prominent shopping malls, restaurants, cinemas, bars, health and wellness centres. All your needs can be met within a mile. Locals and expats are offered the ultimate lifestyle experience, yet many of the surrounding neighbourhoods are green and quiet.

Robertson Quay - River Valley

Situated between Orchard Road and the Singapore River, Robertson Quay and River Valley are popular areas for young people who want to be near the Central Business District (CBD), so they can enjoy the wide range of amenities on offer and the buzzing nightlife. Robertson Quay boasts modern condominiums with impressive water views. Transportation is made easy via Clarke Quay MRT stations and the numerous bus services available here.

Tanglin - Jervois Road

A walk and a world away from Orchard, Tanglin is a largely residential area that is home to many embassies. With a mix of single-story and mostly low-rise condominiums, the Tanglin area exudes an air of serenity with its tree-lined roads and green surroundings. Although there are no Mass Rapid Transport (MRT) stations nearby, it is easily accessible by bus and strategically located near the Botanic Gardens, Orchard Road and Dempsey Hill. The latter boasts a mix of quaint furniture shops, art galleries, cafes and restaurants.

Central Business District (CBD) - Marina Bay

This area has an abundance of luxurious, high-rise new condominiums and is easily connected to Singapore's financial centre. It also has spectacular views of the island's breath-taking skyline. The small size and relatively high cost of apartments is compensated by the convenience of well-connected underground walkways, home to a large number of shops, supermarkets, restaurants, bars and MRT stations. With the famous Marina Bay Sands Integrated Resort, the Esplanade Theatres and numerous elegant eateries of One Fullerton Bay, you'll never get bored.

Central

Holland Village - Clementi - Bukit Timah

Holland Village is a hamlet tucked away behind the Singapore Botanic Gardens and is less than 10 minutes away from Orchard Road. This little spot has been referred to as Singapore's "Bohemian" enclave because of its variety of art galleries, artisan shoe shops, tarot card readers and shops selling ethnic products. A traditional favourite for expats, Holland Village is served by its own MRT station. Holland Road leads to the Sixth Avenue and Clementi, both of which offer affordable detached houses, apartments and condominiums. A trip to the CBD takes approximately 30 - 40 minutes and the area is close to international schools like the United World College of South East Asia, the Tanglin Trust School and the National University of Singapore, which is Singapore's first university.

Bukit Timah, on the other hand, is a well-established residential area that stretches all the way to the Bukit Timah

Nature Reserve. It is close to Orchard Road and international schools and clubs like the Japanese Association, the Hollandse Club and the British Club. It is also home to the Italian Supplementary School (Scuola Supplementare Italiana Singapore), which is strategically located at Bukit Tinggi Road.

Sentosa

Previously called Pulau Blakang Mati, this popular resort island offers exclusive homes at a high price, complete with unparalleled sea views. Attractions include a 2 km long sheltered beach, biking trails, golf courses, private boat berths and the Resorts World Sentosa, featuring the Universal Studios Singapore theme park. Sentosa offers a respite from the hustle and bustle of city life, without being disconnected from it. A monorail train brings Sentosa residents to Vivo City, one of Singapore's largest shopping malls and the closest MRT station which is Harbourfront.

West

Upper Bukit Timah Road

To the west of Bukit Timah lies the Upper Bukit Timah area, where you can find a wide choice of good-value condominiums, semi-detached houses and several shopping centres. It also contains a rustic Dairy Farm Nature Park that provides numerous recreational and leisure facilities.

Multiple expressways make it easily accessible for car owners. It now has MRT access as well.

Pasir Panjang

Home to the recently renovated West Coast Park, Pasir Panjang is a new, up-and-coming residential area in Singapore, with its own MRT station and modern condominiums. Aside from the cool breezes of the South China Sea, there is no end to the leisure activities available here, with numerous recreational facilities at the West Coast Park, the Republic of Singapore Yacht Club, the Labrador Nature Reserve and the Tanjong Berlayer Park.

East

East Coast

The East Coast area stretches for 18km and is another popular neighbourhood amongst expats. The East Coast Park, a breezy park with numerous cycling, running and entertainment options makes the East Coast area an attractive neighbourhood for getting together with family and friends. The area provides a variety of housing options for various budgets and the East Coast Parkway (ECP), Kallang - Paya Lebar Expressway (KPE) and Pan-Island Expressway (PIE) provide easy access to the city and to the airport. International schools such as the United World College of South East Asia (UWCSEA), the Canadian International School and the Chatsworth International School also have their campuses here.

Katong

Affectionately known as the 'Home of the Peranakans', the Katong/Joo Chiat area is a treasure trove of well-preserved heritage shophouses, quaint shops and restaurants catering for the culinary needs of this traditional and unique community. A perfect blend of modern and colonial bungalows as well as large shopping malls such as Parkway Parade and I12 Katong are also scattered around the area.

Siglap - Bedok

One of the oldest residential areas in Singapore, the Siglap and Bedok areas are far from the city centre but are jewels in their own right. They offer a village-like tranquillity that stands in contrast to the busy urban atmosphere that Singapore is known for. As a result of their long history, housing options are remarkably varied, from HDB apartments to townhouses, condominiums to spacious, detached bungalows. The areas are also well served by MRT connections running along to the EXPO Convention and Exhibition Centre, as well as to the airport.

North

Thomson

The Thomson and Upper Thomson areas are home to the MacRitchie, Pierce and Seletar reservoirs. Condominiums here are generally more spacious and affordable. Singapore's famous wildlife attractions (the Singapore Zoo, Night Safari and River Safari) are also nearby, making it a fantastic regular hangout for parents with young children. Moreover, it is served by good bus routes and a MRT line that has recently been completed.

Woodlands

Woodlands is another favourite among many expats primarily for its spacious, reasonably-priced houses, and the strategically-located Singapore American School. Not only does this area have a suburban ambience, it is also near the Woodlands Checkpoint: one of the two access points from Singapore to Malaysia.

Seletar - Yio Chu Kang - Yishun

Right in the heart of Singapore this area offers plenty of affordable houses and condominiums. Seletar Air Base has a small cluster of conservation black-and-white houses which you can apply for (see 'types of housing'). The area is convenient for parents who wish to send their children to the American, Australian and French schools, as well as the XCL World Academy.

Choosing your New House

Singapore has a wide variety of housing options, with solutions for both young professionals and families. Knowing the type of housing that best suits you will bring you one step closer to finding your dream home. Here are a few options for you.

HDB – Housing & Development Board flats

These homes have been around since the 1960s. Built by the government's Housing Development Board (HDB), they take the form of high-rise public housing that accommodates over 80% of Singapore residents. These flats are located in residential areas, which are self-contained satellite towns with schools, supermarkets, clinics, hawker centres, and sports and recreational facilities. HDB flats are a very convenient option for individuals looking for affordable and practical accommodation.

NOTE: foreigner nationals may only rent HDB flats; only Singaporean citizens and permanent residents are eligible to buy them.

Condominiums

Similar to HDBs in terms of architecture, condominiums (also known as condos) are built and run by private companies. Bonding with the local community is made easy through big social spaces, gyms, swimming pools, communal areas and barbecue areas.

Shophouses and Conservation Homes

These houses date back to the pre-war era and are usually part of two or three storey structures, decorated with colourful shutters or tile work. Originating from the 18th century, shophouses historically featured a shop on the ground floor and a residential space, intended to accommodate one or more families, either at the back of the building or on the second floor.

Similar to shophouses, black-and-white houses are conservation homes offering more distinct reminders of the colonial era in Singapore. Painted white with black trimmings, they range from quaint bungalows to large mansions which include separate guest quarters, parking areas and pool houses.

Serviced Apartments

Lastly, serviced apartments are an excellent choice for temporary accommodation. These fully-furnished apartments include hotel-style perks such as maid services and free buffet breakfasts. Here are a few providers to consider:

SINGAPORE, THE GATEWAY TO ASIA
A BRIEF GUIDE FOR DOING BUSINESS IN SINGAPORE

Doing business in Singapore

Singapore is a primary hub in Southeast Asia due to several key factors contributing to its success as a business destination. First, its strategic location at the southern tip of the Malay Peninsula places it at the crossroads of major international trade routes, making it a gateway to Asia and an important hub for global trade. This has helped attract many multinational corporations, who have established their regional headquarters in Singapore, taking advantage of the city-state's excellent connectivity to major markets across the region.

Secondly, Singapore has a highly developed infrastructure, including world-class ports, airports, and a modern transportation system that is efficient and reliable. This infrastructure has helped to facilitate the smooth movement of goods and people, further reinforcing Singapore's position as a key logistics hub in the region.

Thirdly, Singapore has a highly educated and skilled workforce, with a strong emphasis on education and training, which has helped to attract foreign investors looking for a highly skilled talent pool. In addition, the government has implemented policies to promote innovation and technology, including generous research and development grants and investment in cutting-edge technologies such as artificial intelligence, robotics, and cybersecurity.

Finally, Singapore is known for its pro-business environment, transparent and stable legal system, low tax rates, and comprehensive network of double tax treaties. The government has also implemented various incentives and schemes to attract foreign investment, such as the Global Investor Programme and the Economic Development Board's "one-stop-shop" for investment support.

The primary purpose of this guide is to provide a basic understanding of Singapore, including an overview of its tax system, the available types of companies, and the requirements for immigration. This guide is a helpful starting point for investors contemplating setting up a business in Singapore. Types of business structures

In Singapore, there are different types of structures for doing business:

- a. Representative Office ('RO'): It is a unique entity with no legal status and does not generate any profit but acts as a cost center to the parent company. The representative office structure is often chosen by foreign businesses keen to explore opportunities in Singapore with market research and feasibility studies. It represents a temporary arrangement since it can be renewed for three years. After this period, the foreign corporation must establish a permanent business structure or terminate its presence in Singapore.
- b. Branch Office: A branch office does not exist as a separate legal identity from its foreign parent company since it is considered a "legal extension" of the foreign parent company. Thus, the liability of a branch office extends to its foreign parent company. It must share the same name and constitution as the parent company and cannot carry out different commercial activities from that of the parent company. Therefore, it is taxed as a non-resident entity without benefitting from any tax benefits and incentives in Singapore.

- c. Local Company: A local company is a legal entity separate and distinct from its shareholders and directors; it has the right to own property, has perpetual succession, and can sue or be sued in its name. There are three different types of companies:
 - Private company limited by shares (50 members or less) and Exempt Private Company (20 members or less and no corporation holds beneficial interest)
 - Public company limited by shares (more than 50 members)
 - Public company limited by guarantee
- d. Variable Capital Company (VCC): is a new type of legal vehicle tailor-made for collective investment schemes (CIS). It is incorporated under the Variable Capital Companies Act, which took effect on 14 January 2020, and complements the existing suite of investment fund structures available in Singapore.

- e. Sole Proprietorship (single owner) or Partnership (at least two and max of twenty owners): This entity is the easiest to set up with almost negligible compliance norms and costs. A natural person who is a resident in Singapore above 18 years of age can set up a sole proprietorship. This entity is not a separate legal entity from its owner, who has unlimited liability for debts and losses of the business, individual tax rates apply to its chargeable income, and its registration must be renewed annually or every three years.
- f. Limited Partnership (LP): This entity type involves quick setup procedures. It is easy to manage with minimal registration costs and fewer compliance regulations to adhere to. Its registration requires annual renewal, and it is formed between at least one General Partner (GP) bearing unlimited liabilities and one Limited Partner with limited liability (but with no role in the management). At least one local manager must be an ordinary resident.
- g. Limited Liability Partnership (LLP): This business structure has fewer formalities, procedures, and regulatory duties to comply with. It requires at least two partners with limited liabilities. It is a separate legal entity from its partners, and it needs at least one local manager to be an ordinary resident in Singapore of at least 18 years of age.

Private Limited Company

It is the most preferred business structure by foreigners doing business in Singapore. This entity has a separate legal personality, can benefit from any tax incentives and schemes, engage in business operations different from those of its parent company, and is suitable with the scale of most business activities with limited liability for the shareholders. In addition, foreign parent entities can own 100% of a subsidiary in Singapore.

A private limited company is a business entity incorporated under the Singapore Companies Act (Cap 50). A private limited company is the most advanced, flexible, and scalable type of business form in Singapore.

KEY REQUIREMENTS

- Shareholder: The company must have at least one shareholder, who can be a natural person or a corporation and enjoy limited liability. A private company cannot have more than 50 shareholders. Local shareholding is not required.
- Capital: A minimum paid-up capital is SGD 1.00. The company's capital
- can be increased at any time after the incorporation.
- Management: The company is managed by a director or a board of directors, of which at least one must be a legal resident in Singapore.
- Address: It must have a local and physical registered office address where the company will keep all of its statutory documents. This address cannot be a PO box.
- Secretary: The company must have a professional company secretary who is a local resident of Singapore and responsible for ensuring the smooth administration of the company, compliance with corporate governance, and other financial and legal regulations.
- Auditor: The company must appoint an audit firm to audit its accounts annually unless exempted by law. Audit exemption requirements relate to "small companies/small groups" and "relevant dormant companies."

COMPLIANCE REQUIREMENTS:

- Annual General Meeting and Annual Return: The company must hold the Annual General Meeting (AGM) to approve (among others) the financial statements within six months from the financial year's end. Under certain circumstances, private companies do not need to hold AGMs if they send their financial statements to members within five months after the FYE, provided that no member or auditor requests the AGM to be held. The company must also file with the local registrar, Accounting & Corporate Regulatory Authority (ACRA), its Annual Return (AR) within seven months from the financial year-end. The AR should contain the details of the Officers, the Registered address, and the Auditors of the Company. It is important to note that a company is exempt from audit requirements if it fulfills the criteria of "small company/ small group" under section 205C of the Singapore Companies Act (Chapter 50) (the "CA"). If it also falls under the definition of "private dormant relevant companies" under section 201A of the CA, it shall be exempted from the requirement to prepare financial statements.
- Registrable Controllers: Companies must maintain a register of registrable controllers (RORC) and file the RORC information with the ACRA. A Registrable Controller is defined as an individual or a legal entity that has a "significant interest" (holds directly or indirectly #25% shares or voting rights) or exercises "significant control/influence" over the company (i.e., can appoint or remove the directors, amend the constitution and nature of company's business).

Immigration

All foreigners who intend to work in Singapore must have a valid visa, here below are listed the main visa schemes.

S Pass

This type of pass is meant for mid-level skilled employees. Candidates must earn at least $3,000 monthly and meet specific eligibility criteria. S Pass are limited by a quota.

Employment Pass (EP)

For foreign professionals, managers, and executives, the fixed monthly salary must be more than S$5,000. There is no official quota system that limits the number of EPs issued. An EP is initially issued for 1-2 years and is renewable until the applicant continues to be employed by the company. From 1 September 2023, candidates must pass a two-stage eligibility framework. In addition to meeting the qualifying salary, candidates must pass a points-based Complementarity Assessment Framework (COMPASS).

Entrepreneur Pass (EntrePass)

The EntrePass is a variant of the Employment Pass. It is a work permit for newly established (or to be established) Singapore company owners who wish to relocate to Singapore to operate their business.

To be eligible, the company must meet several criteria, such as:

- Secure funding from a government-recognized investor;
- Have entrepreneurial or investment experience;
- Possess intellectual property, have a research collaboration with accredited research
- Hold intellectual property, collaborate with accredited research institutions in Singapore, or have extraordinary achievements in strategic areas.

It is initially issued for one year and is renewable afterward, provided the business remains profitable and there is no official quota system for EntrePass.

Personalized Employment Card (PEP)

The Personalised Employment Pass (PEP) is a type of employment pass that is not tied to a specific employer. The most significant advantage of having a PEP work permit is changing jobs without applying for a new employment pass, as long as the holder is not unemployed for more than six months.

The most significant disadvantage is that a PEP holder cannot start his own business. The eligibility requirements for PEP are:

- For EP holders: a fixed monthly salary of at least $12,000
- For overseas foreign professionals: a fixed monthly salary of at least $18,000 and the
- The last salary received must have been within six months before application.

PEP is issued for three years and is not renewable. There is no formal quota system for PEP holders, and holders can apply for PR in due course.

Overseas Networks & Expertise Pass

The Overseas Networks & Expertise Pass is personalized for top talent across all sectors, including business, arts and culture, sports, academia, and research. It allows eligible applicants to concurrently start, operate and work for multiple companies in Singapore at any time.

Candidates must earn a fixed monthly salary of at least $30,000 within the last year or a fixed monthly salary of at least $30,000 under their future employer based in Singapore. Individuals with outstanding arts and culture, sports, academia, and research achievements can qualify, even if they do not meet the salary criterion.

The pass duration is five years; subsequent renewals will be five years. Spouses of this pass holders can also obtain a Letter of Consent to work.

Dependants

Pass holders may have their spouses, children, and parents join them in Singapore. Dependents can work in Singapore but must obtain a work visa under the prevailing qualifying conditions.

Permanent Resident

Foreigners can apply to become permanent residents of Singapore (PR) and enjoy most of the benefits and rights granted to citizens.

The benefits include:

- The right to live in the country without a visa or work restrictions.
- Priority for their children to study in public schools
- Greater freedom to purchase a property.
- Participation in the pension fund scheme.

At the same time, they need to make specific commitments, such as sending their children to compulsory two-year military service once they reach the age of 18.

The main scheme that foreigners can apply for PR is the "Professionals/Technical Personnel & Skilled Worker" scheme, reserved for foreign professionals working in Singapore when applying for permanent residency.

The other two schemes foreigners can apply for PR are:

- The Global Investor Program (GIP). Under this scheme, foreigners can apply by starting a business with a minimum investment of SGD 2.5 million;
- The Foreign Artistic Talent Scheme. To qualify for this scheme, foreigners must be well-recognized artists in their own country and have significantly contributed to Singapore's arts and culture.

Budget 2023

Global Anti-Base Erosion Rules

The government of Singapore has announced that it plans to implement the Global Anti-Base Erosion (GloBE) model rules and a domestic minimum top-up tax (DTT) for businesses starting from 1 January 2025. This move is in response to the international tax developments and the increasing adoption of the GloBE rules globally. With the introduction of these rules, large multinational enterprises (MNEs) with consolidated annual revenues of EUR 750 million or more will pay an effective tax rate of at least 15% on profits earned in the jurisdictions where they operate. This will negate the benefits of concessionary tax rates that MNEs enjoy in Singapore. While not all of Singapore's key trading partners have adopted the GloBE rules, some MNEs with operations in Singapore could be subject to a top-up tax in their ultimate parent entity's location if that location implements GloBE rules before 2025. Therefore, MNEs should review their holding structures to assess if any part of their operations is caught by the global minimum tax regime introduced in another jurisdiction.

Incentive scheme for qualifying donors with family offices in Singapore

In addition, the Singapore government has proposed a new tax incentive scheme for qualifying donors with family offices operating in Singapore. Under this scheme, qualifying donors can claim 100% tax deduction for overseas donations made through qualifying local intermediaries, capped at 40% of the donor's statutory income. To qualify, donors must have an incentivised fund vehicle under the section 130 or section 13U schemes and meet the eligibility conditions such as incremental business spending of $200,000. This move aims to encourage philanthropy and make Singapore a centre for philanthropy in Asia.

Double Tax Deduction for Internationalisation (DTDi) Scheme

The Double Tax Deduction for Internationalisation (DTDi) scheme has been expanded to cover the costs of launching an e-commerce campaign on an online platform. This should help businesses reduce the costs of going online. However, it is unclear whether the definition of "campaign" will be interpreted strictly by the Inland Revenue Authority of Singapore (IRAS) such that the costs of setting up an e-commerce channel or webpage which is accessible to customers both in Singapore and overseas may not qualify for the new deduction claim.

Changes to tax treatment for capital expenditure

Enhanced tax treatment on capital expenditure.

In addition, there are enhanced tax treatment measures available to businesses for capital expenditure and renovation and refurbishment costs in the Year of Assessment (YA) 2024. Taxpayers will have the option of accelerating their capital allowance claims over two years, and there will be an irrevocable option to claim accelerated deduction on qualifying renovation & refurbishment (R&R) costs incurred in the YA 2024. However, companies should carry out scenario analyses and consider a number of factors to determine whether to opt for the accelerated claims.

The tax deduction scheme for approved expenditure on building modifications for disabled employees will be withdrawn from 15 February 2023, as it has become less relevant in view of other support schemes introduced subsequently.

There are also tax measures relating to submarine cable systems, including a withholding tax exemption, a writing down allowance, and an investment allowance. The proposed extension of these tax measures to 31 December 2028 should continue to encourage telecommunication carriers and other industry players to hub their networks in Singapore.

Enterprise Innovation Scheme

The Enterprise Innovation Scheme (EIS) is a new programme introduced by the Singapore Government to incentivize and support businesses in their research and development (R&D), innovation, and capability development activities. The EIS provides enhanced tax deductions for qualifying activities, allowing businesses to claim up to 400% tax deduction on their qualifying expenditure for five categories of activities.

The first category is staff costs and consumables incurred on qualifying R&D projects conducted in Singapore, where a qualifying project is one that is of advanced, leading-edge technology. The second category is qualifying costs for intellectual property registration, while the third is for acquisition and licensing of IP rights. The fourth category is qualifying training expenditure, and the fifth is innovation projects carried out with local institutions.

The EIS is more targeted than the erstwhile Production and Innovation Credit Scheme and is more generous, offering 400% tax deduction or allowance, which is higher than the current 100% to 250% deductions available. Businesses that are not profitable or not having sufficient profits to benefit from the tax deductions can opt for cash conversion and receive a non-taxable cash payout of 20% of their total qualifying expenditure across all qualifying activities, up to a maximum of $100,000.

The EIS benefits are applicable from YA 2024 to YA 2028, allowing businesses to enjoy enhanced deductions for investments in innovation and productivity, which they may have already made for YA 2024. The EIS aims to encourage businesses to invest in innovation and enhance their competitiveness while also preparing young talents for the workforce and promoting collaboration between businesses and local institutions.

Tax measures for the financial sector

What are the changes to the Financial Sector Incentive (FSI) Scheme and the Qualifying Debt Securities (QDS) Scheme in Singapore's recent budget?

The Financial Sector Incentive (FSI) Scheme is a tax incentive aimed at enhancing financial intermediation and deepening capabilities in key financial services and banking activities in Singapore. Originally scheduled to lapse after 31 December 2023, the scheme will now be extended until 31 December 2028, with certain enhancements.

Under the FSI Scheme, concessionary tax rates of 5%, 10%, 12%, and 13.5% on income from qualifying banking and financial activities, headquarters and corporate services, fund management, and investment advisory services will be streamlined to two rates of 10% and 13.5% for different categories of FSI awards approved on or after 1 January 2024. The existing set of applicable concessionary tax rates will also be revised as follows:

- FSI-Capital Market (CM), FSI-Derivatives Market (DM), FSI-Credit Facilities Syndication (CFS) - increase from 5% to 10%.
- FSI-Fund Management and FSI-Headquarter Services – remain at 10%.
- FSI-Trustee Companies – increases from 12% to 13.5%.
- FSI-Standard Tier (ST) – remains at 13.5%.

The Qualifying Debt Securities (QDS) Scheme has been delinked from the FSI Scheme, and the requirement that a QDS has to be substantially arranged in Singapore will be rationalized. All debt securities issued on or after 15 February 2023 must be substantially arranged in Singapore by a financial institution holding a specified license (instead of an FSI company). For insurance-linked securities (ILS) issued from 1 January 2024 onwards, at least 30% of the ILS issuance costs must be paid to Singapore businesses, to the extent that the substantially arranged in Singapore requirement is not met. The QDS Scheme will be extended until 31 December 2028, and the scope of qualifying income will be streamlined and clarified to include all payments in relation to the early redemption of a QDS.

THE ACADEMY AND ITS OBJECTIVES

The Italian Academy of Cuisine, which is a Cultural Institution of the Italian Republic since 2003, was founded in Milan on July 29, 1953 by Orio Vergani along with a group of talented experts in the field of culture, industry and journalism. Its mission is to defend and protect traditional Italian Cuisine, and to promote its diffusion and improvement in Italy and abroad. The Academy works with public officials, entities, associations, public and private institutions, and it can authoritatively guarantee objectivity and neutrality in its judgements in the field of cuisine thanks to its independence from any and all commercial interests.

Through its Study Center and its Delegations in Italy and abroad, the Academy works to promote initiatives aimed at spreading a broader understanding of the values of traditional Italian cuisine. This constitutes the basis for all its concrete innovations.

Those people with a direct commercial interest in the restaurant industry or culinary schools are not eligible for admission to the Academy.

BI-QEM dates back to 1955 when the cornerstone of the BI-QEM Group has been laid to produce thermoset molding compounds in Tradate, Italy under its previous name Chemiplastica. After becoming the largest global supplier of thermoset molding compounds in the market, BI-QEM took a step ahead and started to diversify its product portfolio. In 2010 a new investment decision was made and BI-QEM acquired Chimeco, a company specialized in the production of specialty chemicals with a strategic position in the global market. Following the acquisition, the plant was restructured in line with the quality and safety requirements of BI-QEM and started to operate as Chemiplastica Specialties. In the year 2018, with the intention to welcome new challenges offered by the international market, BI-QEM has decided to change its historical and well-known name from Chemiplastica to BI-QEM. The change of name was driven by the diversification of product lines, constant increase in attention to the environment and the approach towards a global extension and a strengthened presence. This technique does not involve the use of drugs and is divided into three phases. In the first phase, some muscle centers are stimulated to obtain the relaxation of contractures. In the second phase, the energy centers known as Chakras are stimulated. Finally, slow and gradual maneuvers are performed on the spinal column with the aim of obtaining active and passive muscle stretching, relaxation of the ligaments and adjacent tissues. The maneuvers are progressive and delicate; therefore, no pain is felt. They are performed on a normal massage table. Furthermore, to help the improvement process, some natural Indian essences with decontracting and anti-inflammatory properties are used. The main disorders on which the soft movement technique has shown greater effectiveness are: Low back pain; Neck pain; Whiplash; Back pain due to overweight, poor posture, excess physical activity etc.

FARMINDUSTRIA

Founded in May, 1978, Farmindustria - the association of pharmaceutical companies and member of Confindustria - counts today about 200 national and foreign-owned member companies operating in Italy.

With 63,500 highly qualified employees, the pharmaceutical industry in Italy plays a leading role in the international scenario. The overall pharmaceutical turnover amounts to 30 billion euro, with exports accounting for 73% of manufacturing of the 174 companies located in Italy.

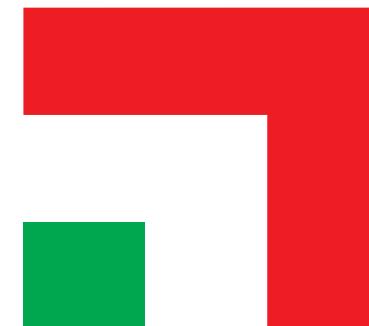

With 6,000 researchers and investments for 2.5 billion euro each year (1.2 in manufacturing and 1.3 in R&D), Italy is buttressing its pharmaceutical research commitment, as demonstrated by 303 Italian biotechnological products under development, also thanks to the cooperation between public and private centres of excellence.

R&D and manufacturing are also vital for the activity of vaccines, which constitute an excellence of pharmaceutical industry.

In order to guarantee the fairest behaviour Farmindustria member companies have adopted a Code of Professional Conduct - today one of the most rigorous in Europe - that regulates not only the relations between companies but also their relations with the scientific and medical community.

Farmindustria, which is a member of the European (EFPIA) and International federations (IFPMA), pursues the achievement of a stable legislative framework and the outlining of policies by which the key role of pharmaceutical industry in enhancing the knowledge-based economy can get the right recognition, which may contribute to consolidating industrial presence on the territory and investments in research and manufacturing.

In order to convey the importance of pharmaceutical industry and Research, Farmindustria has started a "roadshow" through the Associated companies' facilities, with the aim of providing a live demonstration of the production of value. Farmindustria has also presented the Orologio della Vita (Life Clock), which measures the contribution of medicines to the increase in life expectancy, and has created the website www.farmaci-e-vita.it.

Italian Chamber of Commerce in Singapore

The logo comes in the form of a square shape to enhance stability and trust. The colours in the flags of both Italy and Singapore are reflected in the logo. The colours of the Singapore flag are positioned at the top portion of the logo in red and white while the colours of the Italy flag are positioned at the bottom portion, in green, white and red.

In view of the bilateral relations that ICCS bridges between Italy and Singapore in terms of economic, commercial and legislative connections, the red coloured portion leads our eyes from the left towards the right and ends at the letter 'S', which stands for Singapore.

On a geographical level, Italy is situated northwest from Singapore, thus the red area could also represent a directional bridge, linking Singapore to the north-upwards followed by the west-leftwards, strengthening the ties between Singapore and Italy.
